LAUNCH DYNAMIC, CONTENT-RICH SITES INSTANTLY.

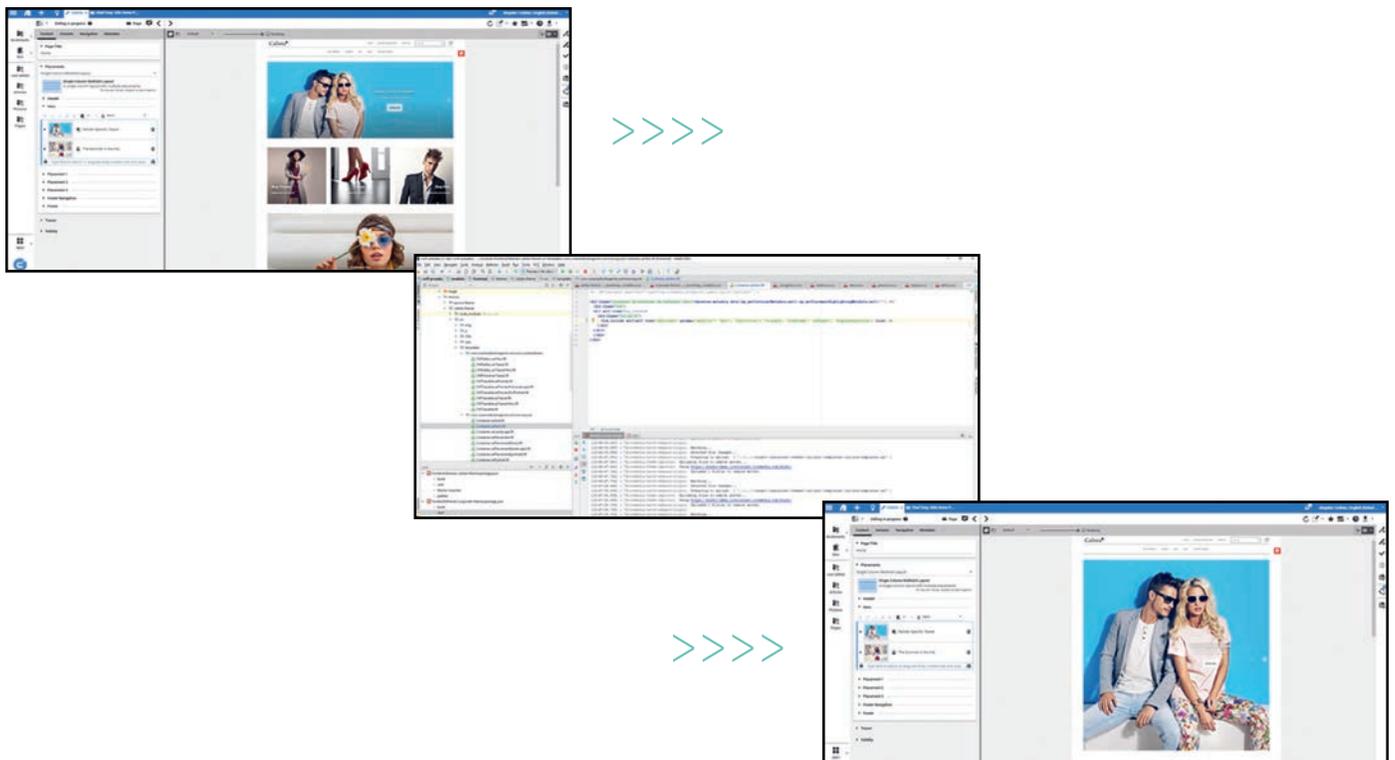

To compete online, you need great content. But getting all of your assets organized and optimized is no small thing. Neither is deploying and updating immersive, content-rich experiences that captivate customers and drive more business. Building new sites from scratch is time consuming, and putting new infrastructure in place is always a challenge. You need a way to jumpstart this process — an agile front-end development framework that helps you launch new experiences faster and leapfrog your competition.

That's where CoreMedia Content Cloud comes in. Content Cloud is an open, best-of-breed, API-driven solution that features built-in "blueprints" – a set of ready-to-deploy starter sites for launching dynamic, omnichannel experiences. Pre-fabricated components and responsive templates accelerate time-to-market for multi-language/multi-region brand launches and updates. Each Blueprint contains advanced code modules, site templates, style sheets, and sample content that meets nearly any requirement that customers need in order to get started.
