

Advanced Edition

For a one-of-a-kind customer experience

The Advanced Edition of Monday Webforms doesn't just give you even more help to create forms and manage your form data. You'll also gain valuable insights into user behaviour that let you respond to specific issues they're experiencing.

With Webforms, creating forms has never been simpler. The look and feel of the form manager is perfectly matched to CoreMedia Studio, so it instantly seems natural and familiar. Use the intuitive interface to create multi-page and branching forms – and still with no knowledge of coding.

Defence in depth

Protect yourself and your customers alike with the double-opt-in feature: their data is stored in Webforms Analytics only if they consent to it first. Nor is your data ever shared with a third-party system but always only ever stored on your own server. Webforms Analytics also offers you the functionality you need to ensure compliance with the EU GDPR – such as the automated deletion and anonymisation of customer data.

Taking it to the max

The Advanced Edition offers all of the features that you need to create truly world-class forms. The Webforms Analytics extension provides assistance for managing your form data and visualising it as reports. The statistics tools also give you insights into how your customers tick.

A unique customer experience

Webforms Analytics offers you plenty of filtering options to organise and report on all of your form data. Even statistical data can be included in easy-to-read reports and presentation graphics. This lets you identify potential for optimisation and fine-tune your forms to perfectly match the needs of your customers.
